About the Christmas Shopping.

It won't be taken as altogether selfish if we urge an early noting of your holiday selection. Certainly now that the more important stocks are in shape you have an advantage that must grow less as the holiday approaches.

There are many features that are purposely restricted to small quantities. There are others that are so popular no matter how plentiful the supply it is well-nigh sure to be exhausted. There are still other lines—especially silverware—where further orders are refused—but luckily we are not affected by such an edict—our line is here—and complete.

But there's advantage in first choice. There's comfort in the stores now—ample room—ample time for you to have all the attention we like to give you. There's more orderliness than there can be a month later.

If it proves to be as it seems probable now, this store will be the center of the Christmas shopping—and we're going to bend every energy to keep things moving with characteristic Saks smoothness. We all like to mingle with the gay crowds to a limited extent—but if you get the bulk of the buying done beforehand you will not have the worry of hurry.

Whatever selections you may see fit to make can be reserved positively upon small deposit—and delivery made whenever you desire—even up to Christmas morning.

We take the liberty of offering this suggestion, for already there's "holiday life" about the store.

Of course, it is impossible to anything like catalogue completely the gift goods. But from time to time we can give these hints that may prove valuable to you.

Combs and Brush Trays from 25c. to $2.00.
Solid Bows from 25c. to $1.00.

Beer Sets from $1.75 to $10.00.
For Cream Sets from $1.25 to $9.00.

Of course, the Toys and the Dolls are brand new. There was positively nothing carried over from last Christmas—so the stock is fresh and novel—and double as big as it was before.

Brass and Iron Beds.

We have done a very unusual thing: Reduced the price of White Enamel Beds—that are worth more in the wholesale market today than the original regular price.

But what are left are in reality a remnant lot—and it seems to us more expedient to close them out. To reduce the price rather than bring in the new lots and create a peculiar condition—of parallel values at uneven prices. We at least know that those of you interested in Bed buying will appreciate the circumstances and be glad of the saving.

$12 will be the price of an $18 value Brass and Iron Bed, with double brass rail top and bottom, with row of heavy brass rings and springs; roll top and four-foot six size.

$45 will be the price of $60 grade All-Brass Beds, four-foot six, with heavy rail top and elaborate brass ornaments; improved so that it will retain its brilliancy without special care.

$15 will be the price for $20 grade White Enamel Beds, with roll top and heavy brass rail mounting; also brass bottom rail; fitted with all-iron screw-spring of finest quality. Size, four-foot six.

$15 will be the price for $22.50 grade All-Brass Beds, with swell front and extra heavy legging; size, four-foot six.

These are the only beds that will be sold at these prices—and of two of the lots there is but one each. Don't be disappointed if you are late in coming and find them gone. But congratulate yourself if you get one.

Smyrna Rugs.

Commercially speaking—Smyrnas are not actually such. Where these cost dollars genuine Smyrnas would cost hundreds. But they are faithful imitations—that Yankee cleverness has produced to such a degree of perfection that only a treasure collector will discern the secret. They have the rich, deep colorings of the eastern Rugs. They are absolutely all wool—which gives them the wear-life almost of the Smyrna. All wool—mark that—for most of the American-made Smyrna Rugs are jute—or at best, jute and wool. On the jute hangs the dissatisfaction. But these are guaranteed to be all wool.

There are 500 of them—in a line of sizes and patterns. Extra heavy qualities—and offered at special prices. We like to give the reason for every unusual offering—you like to know why your dollar can buy more than a dollar's worth.

The maker put just a little too much value in them—which made the wholesale cost a little too high. In the end they came to sacrifice.

Size 16x36 $1.25 value, for $1.00.
Size 21x45 $1.75 value, for $1.25.
Size 26x54 $2.50 value, for $1.75.
Size 30x60 $3.00 value, for $2.25.
Size 36x72 $4.00 value, for $3.00.
Size 42x84 $7.50 value, for $5.00.

Silverware.

The leading makers of Silver-plated Ware everywhere report the biggest season of the decade—with more orders than they can fill. A timely caution. Demand must be met—and if the best makers cannot meet it—the cheapest will be resorted to. So it's a time to use keen judgment—or buy where you can trust. The rush didn't come early enough to interfere with our placing of orders and their delivery. Makers always favor the cash buyers—and the favor shows here in the service—the pieces—the patterns.

Heavy Triple-plated on finest quality steel Knives and Forks, six of each in a box—$1.75.

Silver-plated Table Spoons, per half dozen—69c.

Silver-plated Table Forks, per half dozen—69c.

Silver-plated After-Dinner Coffee Spoons—each, 5c.

Silver-plated Sugar Shells, Oyster Forks, Pickle Forks, Butter Knives, Salts and Peppers—each, 10c.

W. A. Rogers' At Triple-plate Gravy Ladles—59 cents.

Rogers Bros' Silver-plated Knives and Forks, 12 pieces in box—$2.98.

Rogers' Silver-plated Shell-pattern Table Spoons, triple plate on nickel—$1.49.

Rogers Bros' Silver-plated Dessert Spoon, Windsor shape—per half dozen—$1.49.

Selmer-pattern new Shell-pattern Table Forks—$1.35 for six; Dessert Forks—$1.25 for six.

Rogers Bros' Silver-plated Knives, medium size—half dozen for $1.50.

Quadruple-plated Tea Set, White metal foundation; with bead edge and chased top; gold-lined sugar and cream—$9.95.

Burnished Quadruple Silver-plated Chocolate Pot, with rococo trimming, Turkish design—$2.

Quadruple Silver-plated Bonbon Dishes, gold lined, engraved center and rococo edge—$1.

Sterling Silver-trimmed Pearl Manicure Novelties—$1.39.

Big Ebony Mirrors, with large sterling silver medallion in back—straight or loop handle—98c.

Sterling Silver-mounted Clothes Brush—engraved thickness—$2.49.

First Floor, West, Front.

Special Sale of Blankets.

All you want is the assurance that they are special values. All the detail of dickering with the makers is uninteresting beside the important fact that these Blankets were made to sell at much higher prices than they will be offered for tomorrow and succeeding days, until they are sold.

There won't be a second day if you will see the Blankets.

Gray, Tan and White Fleece Blankets, 11-4 size, finished with heavy crochet edge. Worth $1.25—for 98c. a pair.

Extra Heavy California Blankets, with Blue, Red and Pink Borders; 11-4 size. Worth $3—for $2.48 a pair.

11-4 California Blankets, with Red borders only; excellent weight and $4 quality. $3.25 a pair.

Specially fine California Blankets, that weigh 6 pounds to the pair; 11-4 size, with Pink, Red or Blue borders. Worth $4.50—for $3.48 a pair.

Baby Blankets, that will just fit the crib, with Baby Blue and Pink borders, finished with heavy whipped edge to match. These are very woolly and warm. 49c. a pair.

Second Floor, West, Elevators.

Comforts.

True to the name—Comforts. These nights when you feel like piling on the cover—here is warmth without weight. You'll sleep better for their protection—and knowing your purse is richer for buying them.

150 in three lots.

Silhouette covered and filled with snow-white laminated cotton. Worth $1.75, for $1.25.

Satiny covered and White cotton filled; heavily corded edges. Some worth $2.50, mostly worth $2.75, for $2.00.

Best French Satiny covered and finest of down filling. There are but 21 of these. $5.

Second Floor, West, Elevators.

Carriage Robes and Horse Blankets.

To our best knowledge we can offer you the largest variety in the city for selection. We have made rather a specialty of both Carriage Robes and Horse Blankets—all but the very cheapest—and as there's no satisfaction in these we've no room for them in stock. But you'll find our prices quite as cheap as the cheapest.

It's a little lot this—that's the worst of it—if we could get 500 we could sell them—Heavy-weight Plush Robes in Dark Green and Black—really worth $3.50. We'll have to sell a cheaper Robe for $2.50 when these are gone. They are $2.50 now.

The new Cash Plush Robe, in fancy effects; big enough to wrap around you most twice. $1. Livery stores have the same Robes at $5.

Heavy Double-nap Plush Robes, in several different patterns; extra size—and where the livery stores ask $8.50 we ask but $6.

Heavy Green Plush, with sponged Kersey back, full size. Instead of $6—they are $4.

HORSE BLANKETS.

Double Sureingle Blankets, with plaid front. 75c. for a good heavy stand-steam Blanket. Better qualities in same pattern up to $2.

Double Sureingle Blankets, with double breast-plate and strong straps. $2 and $4.

Square Blankets, in all colors—75c. to $6.

Third Floor, West, Elevators.

Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

500 dozen Men's White Unlaundered Shirts, in two lots—39c. and 50c.

After all the talk of advanced Muslin prices you'll either marvel at such a sale—or take for granted that quality has been determined to meet the condition. Never charge us with such a proceeding. We'll never put else before you than reliable quality—and when old prices cannot be maintained they'll be increased.

But these are identically the same grades of Shirts that we've offered year after year. We bought the linens and the muslins when advance was only prophecy. Before the reality. The rumor led us to contract for greater quantities. Anything less would have been a traitor to duty. The Shirts are really better than the last lot—experience has taught improved making. But the prices are the same—39c. and 50c. They have always been the best Shirts in America for the money. Of course, they are doubly so now.

Ask your wife to take a critical look at both these lots. She knows what's what in Shirt materials—she knows what right making is. She can come within a few pennies of the actual costs to us of these Shirts—and she'll tell you it's surprisingly close to the retail prices. Some selling is glory-selling. This, for instance.

In making, the bosoms have been cut extra long and wide, the seams are felled and reinforced, everlasting stays; gusseted all over—while these have tie retainers, split neck-bands that ease the pressure of the collar button—and every improvement that's usual only in high grade Shirts.

The Muslin in the second lot is of precisely the same count as Wamsutta—and that's A1, you know.

The 39c. Shirts we are sure you cannot duplicate under 50c.

The 50c. Shirts laundered would sell at $1. All sizes.

First Floor, East.

Men's Nightwear.

Muslin is cold and cheerless on a winter's night—and physical comfort asks something more warming for Morpheus' robes. Domet Flannel if you like Night Shirts. Fleece Flannel if you prefer Pajamas.

Noticeable how Pajamas are growing in popularity. You couldn't induce the wearers of them to change. Seem to be the sensible things to wear. Strong value inducements for either inclination.

Domet Flannel Night Shirts, in fancy stripes and checks. Made with gathered yokes, belted seams and cut extra long and full. They are worth 75c. but we figure prices down to the last cent always. That makes them only 50c.

Domet Flannel Pajamas, in new stripes and plaids; well cut and comfortable fitting garments. Worth $1.25, for $1 a suit.

Extra Fine Quality Flannel Pajamas; good colorings and neat "retiring" patterns. Worth $1.50, for $2.50 a suit.

Imported French Flannel and Silk-trimmed Cheviot Pajamas—quite the most luxurious of sleeping attire. Worth $6, for $4.50 a suit.

In all these lots we have the complete line of sizes.

First Floor, East.

Men's Warm Hose.

Winter's coming drives us all to seek the protection of many changes of wardrobe weights. Some high-up medical authority has said—keep the feet warm and the balance of the body will take care of itself.

Natural Wool and Camel's Hair Half Hose, in the plain colors you well know and the quality you know as 25c. value equally as well. 15c. a pair, or two pairs for 25c.

Extra Fine and Heavy Natural Wool and Camel's Hair Half Hose, in wide and narrow stripes such as are popular in Cotton Hose this season. Such effects are now. Worth 35c. for 25c. a pair. You gain a pair in a dollar's worth.

Imported Natural Wool Half Hose, with silk spliced soles and double heels and toes. Worth 75c. for 50c. a pair. We believe, if you can afford it, you'd better buy the 50c. Hose. That silk feature helps satisfaction wonderfully.

First Floor, East.

Men's Dogskin Gloves.

48c. a pair.

We've got 43 dozen of them. We'll tell you the secret of the Glove and its price. They are made from the remnants of skins out of which our regular lines are cut. Hitherto that has all been waste—the labor of making and the trimming are practically the only outlay.

Tan shades, cut with big English thumbs and finished with English outseams and stitched backs. They are not worth a dollar a pair. But as much worth it as lots of Gloves that are sold at a dollar. All sizes.

First Floor, East.

Gas and Oil Heaters.

Handy, especially these chilly mornings, because you get heat the moment you strike a match—and be done with it the instant you turn out the flame. There's a choice to be made—some are safe and some are not—some are costly to operate—some are not. We have made the choice from careful investigation—and can promise you the most heat at the least expense, and absolute safety.

New Kacket Gas Radiators, 22 inches high, with four pipes; easily connected to any gas jet. Listed at $3.75. We sell them at $2.49.

Liberty Gas Radiators, 34 inches high, with six pipes. Listed at $6. We sell them at $4.98.

Star Oil Heaters, we've sold thousands of them. Listed at $2. Our price is $1.49.

Brooklyn Oil Heaters, with cast-iron frame, Russian iron drum, belt-center-draught burner, and if you want to heat water or cook, even, there is a place provided. Listed at $6.98. We sell them at $4.98.

Miller Oil Heaters, with the famous Miller lamp; trimmed with nickel, and provided with handle that makes them very convenient to carry about. Listed at $6.75. We sell them at $5.40.

Fifth Floor, West, Elevators.

Ribbons.

We are improving every chance to bring Ribbons to the counters at less than usual prices now—adays—for with the holiday work on hand you'll have need of plenty.

Let us offer now, while we think of it: What bows you want tied to your young ladies at the Ribbon counters will be glad to tie for you, gratis. It's not always easy for you—and their fingers are clever with such work—'twon't take a jiffy.

These are some of the special lots of Ribbons. That is, they are regular sorts at special prices:

16c. Plaid Ribbons, with satin stripes, 2 inches wide, for belts and neckwear—for 11c. a yard.

5c. Narrow Fancy Ribbons, for children's ties, their hair, your own and their dress trimming—and the fancy work—3c. a yard.

8c. and 12c. Fancy Ribbons, 1 and 1½ inches wide, in Plaids, Roman Stripes and Dresdens, in all shades; some with fancy edge and draw string, for ruffling and quilling; some plain edge—5c. a yard.

33c. All-silk Taffeta Ribbon, in all shades, and 5 inches wide—25c. a yard.

We couldn't induce the maker to accept an all-around price for this Double-faced Black Satin Ribbon—but it is pure silk and such handsome heavy quality that we felt compelled to buy it his way. 'Twas a good purchase even so.

3-inch, worth 25c., for 21c. a yard.

3½-inch, worth 33c., for 25c. a yard.

5-inch, worth 40c., for 30c. a yard.

First Floor, West Aisle.

Laces and Veilings.

All-over Venice, in Ecru and White, leaf and floral designs—the $1.50 kind, for $1.25 a yard.

Heavy Black Silk La Tosca Nets, for entire costume; worth $1.50, for $1 a yard.

Quite an item when you can save 50c. a yard on a dress quantity.

10c. a yard for 18c. quality Black Silk Veilings, plain or fancy mesh; with or without dots.

25c. a yard for 48c. grade Black Silk Veiling, plain or fancy mesh; some with chenille dots.

First Floor, West Aisle.

The "Second Best" Hats.

To wear to market—on a rainy day—with your short skirt—on your wheel—or whenever or wherever you don't feel like putting on your "best bonnet"—that's what these Hats are for.

We are glad that some of these shapes are offered for sale elsewhere—for then there's another chance for you to be brought face to face with the fact that for same qualities we are lowest—and that when prices are equal our qualities are better.

Gray Felt Sailors, trimmed with Black Velvet, quill at side—others say $2.50—we say $1.98.

The Bertha—that's a special one of our own—stylish, soft Felt, English Walking Hat, in Black, Brown, Navy Blue, Gray and Tan. 38 cents.

Velvet Short-back Sailors, for young ladies; crowns are Tan or Shadower shape, trimmed with ribbon, quills and buckles. Others say $2. We say $1.25.

Ladies' Cloth "Cow Boy" Hats, in Royal, Brown, Red, Green, Navy Blue, Gray and Black; silk stitched and trimmed with Black silk and quills. Others ask $5 for no better—we ask only $3.25.

Ladies' Gray Felt Rough Rider Hats, new shapes of Fine French Felt, very light Silver Gray, finished by men's hatters. Two grades—

$1.25 for $2.00 kind,
$2.00 for $3.50 kind.

Third Floor, West, Elevators.

Ladies' and Children's Underwear.

It's every day now some new circumstance arises that projects an Underwear bargain into view. The buyer is practically eating and sleeping in the market—and there's nothing that would be worth your while can escape his vigilance.

We call it a bargain when we can offer Ladies' All-wool and Part Wool Vests, in White and Gray, with long and short sleeves, that are worth $1.19, for 73 cents. Don't you?

There are only 17 dozen—but that's 204 Vests—quite a lot.

Another one is a lot of Ladies' All-wool and Part Wool Combination Suits, with high neck and short sleeves. They button down the front. That isn't the handiest style—but they are $1.50 Suits for 89c.

You can overlook the trifling inconvenience for nearly half the price, we are sure.

Boys' and Girls' Blue-Gray Ribbed Fleece-lined Vests, Pants and Drawers—so far as finish is concerned—50c. value. But, in fact, we'd never mark them over 25c. This lot of them, 25c. a garment.

First Floor, West, Rear.

Ladies' Hosiery.

You can get a pretty good Hose for 25c. a pair—with honest quality and lots of style in it. These 62 dozen are 25c. Imported Striped and Plaid Hose, in new colors and combination—as good as any that have been sold for 25c. But a quarter is double the price. 12½c. a pair.

If you want Cashmere Hose, and lots of ladies do—and you intend paying 50c. a pair for them, we advise you to see ours. Let us whisper a secret—they are really worth 15c. more a pair. Compare them and see.

First Floor, West Aisle.

Ladies' Bath Robes.

50 Eiderdown Bath Robes, in Cardinal, Blue, Pink and Gray; cut long and full and flowing; trimmed down front, around pockets, collars and on sleeves with Black Satin; silk frogs and rope girdle. $4.00.

First Floor, West.

Boys' Clothing.

Takes something specially good in Boys' Clothing values to warrant us in saying—extraordinary. The regular standard is extraordinary, if you compare ours with others'. But this is extraordinary for us, even. Just a day's opportunity. 150 Short Pants Suits and not quite a hundred Boys' Overcoats. They would have been part of Saturday's special list—but shipment was delayed.

The Suits are $3 values for $1.98.

The Overcoats are worth $3.50—and we shall sell them at $2.48.

The Suits are strictly All-wool Cheviots, in neat patterns, well made—for they come from a thoroughly reputable manufacturer; lined with Italian Cloth—and pants supplied with patent waistband. Full line of sizes from 7 to 16 years.

The Overcoats are Black Cheviots—all wool and fast color, with velvet collar, double stitched edge, Italian lined and nobby in cut. 4 to 16 years.

Fourth Floor, West, Elevators.

Dress Goods.

The novelties keep coming. Tomorrow—the first showing of Satin Striped Lutetian. There are just ten dress patterns of six yards each—one of each coloring and design, and we promise you positive exclusiveness.

$26 for the full 6-yard length.

25 pieces of Camel's Hair Plaids, that are all wool—and the long-nap kind; splendid assortment of colorings. 75c. a yard is the actual value. 49c. a yard.

42-inch Lansdownes, in such choice shades as Light Gray, Red, Light Blue, Navy Blue, Cream, White and Pink—we'll warrant the maker never expected to see it retailing for so little as $1.25 a yard.

Shirt Waist Flannels, in Red, Tan, Castor, Gobel, Brown, Dark Brown, Navy Blue and Cadet—the fashionable waisting in the most popular shades; 52 inches wide, worth 75c., for 59c. a yard.
